Kaltuma Sama
Kenya

E-mail: Kaltuma.sama@knls.ac.ke

Position and professional experience:
Librarian in charge of Buru Buru branch (Nairobi), Kenya National Library Service. She is a passionate library leader, skilled trainer, and trailblazer in new library services. Before BuruBuru worked in two other branches.

Role in development innovative programmes:
Started and running a cooking club/lesson for women at my library. Tasks include:
- sourcing for the cooker/oven for use by the club;
- mobilizing young mothers for the lesson through Teen Seed, a local Community based organization.
- facilitating for donations from well-wishers and friend of the library for ingredients and skills that were lacking at the library
- Teaching cooking and baking, whenever the volunteers were unavailable. I step in and teach as it is my passion and hobby.

Personal vision for library: A library that not only provides information in print form, but facilitate transfer of the said information to communities that I serve, through repackaging (what we call from theory to practice). It evolves from a store house of books to a one stop shop where citizen can access information contained in all media from one place. It is my passion to transform my library to a place of empowerment and an inclusivity. My aspiration is to create a space where no community members are left behind

Learning interests:
• Community involvement and empowerment
• Ideas on Uncommon spaces
• Digital technologies for kids and safety online

Peter Balaba

Uganda

E-mail: balapet2001@yahoo.com

Position and professional experience:

Peter is a Librarian and Manager of Nakaseke Public Library in Uganda. Responsible for the development and day-to-day running of the Library services including lobbying, marketing and promoting library services to the community.

Role in development of innovative services and personal vision for the library:

He describes local library as “a One-Stop Centre” where Rural disadvantaged people can meet, share, innovate and have access to internet, computer training, secretarial e-services government services, e-readers, and a community radio station. Peter has led development of all new library services, and kept the library open for students even during the Covid-19 pandemic.

The library is to:

• inspire the community to read, view and listen to our developmental programs
• promote lifelong learning among Women, Youth and Farmers.
• provide ICT skills which supports lifelong learning and spark innovations.

However, my personal profession aspiration is to ensure that I get enough knowledge on innovations and ICT skills to empower my community for a better livelihood.

Learning interests:

1. Digital Literacy Skills
2. Library Sustainability
3. Library Innovations
